IS STILL A MYSTERY

As to Who Blew Up the Home of "Big Jim" Gallagher

STRANGER WHO WAS ACTING STRANGE

Six Foot Tall, Smooth Faced and Wore an Overcoat

Mrs. E. Lory, who is living with Mrs. Nellie C. Lane at 1363 Twentieth avenue, in a statement to a TRIBUNE representative about the dynamiting of Gallagher's home, said this morning that she saw a suspicious looking character prowling around the neighborhood last night. Mrs. Lory said:

"I was sitting in my room upstairs last night and looking out of the window, at about 8 o'clock, when the peculiar actions of a tall man with a heavy overcoat attracted my attention. He acted in a suspicious manner and several times looked around to see if anyone was watching him. When he saw me he walked off down Nineteenth avenue, turning his head around two or three times to see if I was still looking at him. He must have been nearly six feet tall, smooth-shaven and I believe if I saw him again in the same clothes I could recognize him."

Other Houses Are Injured by Explosion

Outside of William H. H. Schenck's home, where Gallagher was living, George McDonald's place at 1223 Nineteenth avenue, suffered the most. Debris surrounded the premises. All but three windows were broken, the plaster in the kitchen, parlor and bathroom fell down in several places, and fragments of timber, blinds, curtains and a window sash from the dynamited house crashed into the dining-room and tore things in general.

The McDonald family, all except the husband and one of the boys, were in the home at the time of the explosion. At first it was thought that another earthquake was in progress, and all started to rush outdoors. The front door, which had been closed all evening, was found forced open and the lock sprung, as a result of the concussion and one of the electric burners, through some strange "trick," lit itself.

Saw No Strangers Running Away

All the members of the McDonald family say, however, that they saw no one running away. James McDonald was playing in the rear yard with Charles Schenck, but neither noticed any suspicious characters.

T. M. Gardiner and family were in their home at 1315 Nineteenth avenue, which is located to the north of Schenck's place, when the bomb exploded. Fourteen windows were broken in their house. Otherwise little damage was done to their home.

Their Home Was Badly Shaken Up

The house shook like an earthquake shock. Mrs. Gardiner declares that the shock was more terrific than at the time of the quake and that the infernal machine was set off shortly after Gallagher came home. It is a total wreck, and the building will have to be torn down. The entire front was blown out and pillars and lumber were sent flying in all directions. One post was hurled 150 feet across the street.

A writing-desk toppled into a cellar and the chimney is leaning ready to fall at any moment. There is not a room in the house but that shows effects of the earthquake. Debris covers the beds, tables, chairs and bureau.

EVIDENCE IN THE TRIAL OF T. L. FORD

"Gumshoe" Not at Old Stand

(Special to The Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23. — Contrary to expectation, the destruction by dynamite of the "Jim" Gallagher home on Nineteenth avenue, Oakland, last night had not the effect of increasing the attendance at the trial of the charge of bribery against T. L. Ford, in Judge Lawlor's department of the Superior court this morning.

In fact, the attendance was not so large as it was yesterday, when Gallagher was a witness, and when he told of the boodle giving and the amount of the boodle which he had stowed away for himself, some of which he is now expending, as he testified, in constructing houses at Adams Point on the other side of the bay. The fact that the dynamiting occurred, has been kept secret from the jury.

When Gallagher was excused yesterday from the witness stand, he was told that he was to consider himself under the order of the court and to be in readiness in the event that he should be summoned to reappear. Gallagher is not needed in the Ford trial. He has completed his testimony in every respect, and has only been a spectator for the past day.

Representatives of the Ford defense were asked what views they held on the subject of the dynamiting of Gallagher's home, but none of them would express their views on the matter. The first witness today was ex-Supervisor Patrick McCuslin. He admitted having received money from supervisor. Nobody, he said, had offered him money before the passage of the Colley franchise, to vote for Gallagher for several of his votes as a that measure. He was in favor of the overhead trolley franchise because he thought it would be the best for the rebuilding and development of the city. He said he opposed the granting to the United Railroads of the right

Lynched

Murderer's Body Swung at Night to Telegraph Pole.

RHYOLITE, Nev., April 23.—Shortly after dusk last night a small band of citizens at Skidoo, a camp in California, fifty-five miles south of here, overpowered the Sheriff's guard in charge of Joe Simpson, the gambler who shot and killed James Arnold last Sunday, and hanged the prisoner to a telegraph pole, where his body dangled this morning as the citizens of the camp arose.

The lynching was accomplished quietly and today no one in Skidoo will acknowledge having any information relating to the affair. Simpson was hanged from the cross-arm of the pole to which he was bound last Sunday after he had made an attempt upon the life of Cashier Dobbs of the Southern California Bank at Skidoo.

"I cannot conceive of a more cowardly act than the effort to blow up a house. It is just such acts that are produced by the teachings of anarchy and lawlessness which are a disgrace to the civilization of this country and it must be condemned and prevented by every power of government. Society owes to itself for its preservation, the maintenance of law and order, and every citizen should contribute his quota to stop such outrages."

MIRACLE THAT NO ONE WAS KILLED

Police Are Following Each and Every Clue.

Detectives from the Oakland police department and several of the noted sleuths of San Francisco are busy today trying to trace the outrage against the home of James Gallagher last night. The building was half destroyed by dynamite and several of the occupants seriously cut and bruised and it was only by a miracle that they escaped with their lives.

The only definite clue the police have is a description given by a neighbor who says she saw a stranger, six feet tall, smooth shaven and wearing a heavy overcoat, acting suspiciously near the Gallagher home just before the explosion.

Gallagher, for the third time, yesterday completed his testimony in the case of T. L. Ford. He is thorough with that case. His examination on both sides was complete.

With a roar, a blinding flash and a resultant shock which could be felt for a distance of twenty blocks, a large charge of high explosive, set off early last night by a person or persons yet unidentified, blew into fragments the entire front of the two-story frame house at 1370 Nineteenth avenue, occupied by former President of the San Francisco Board of Supervisors James L. Gallagher and his wife. Other occupants of the house, which is now but a tottering ruin and mute evidence to one of the most mysterious occurrences.

MAYOR MOTT HAS CONFIDENCE IN POLICE CATCHING DYNAMITERS

When seen in his real estate office on Broadway this morning at 10 o'clock, Mayor Frank K. Mott at first refused to say anything regarding the explosion at the Gallagher home.

"As mayor of Oakland, will you make a statement as to the official position and attitude which you will assume in this matter?" was asked.

"I have nothing whatever to say on this subject," replied Mr. Mott.

"Do you propose to set on foot any movement by the city government to trace the guilty parties?"

City Will Offer no Reward

"I shall do nothing of the kind. I shall have nothing whatever to do with this case. It is a matter for the consideration of no one but the police department and the detectives.

"Will you make any effort toward having the city of Oakland offer a reward for the capture of the guilty parties?"

"I will not. I do not think that this is a case for a reward by the city. The city is in no position to offer a reward, anyway. This case is one for the police, and the police are fully able and competent to handle it."

Mayor Mott refused to make a signed statement for publication and he also refused to dictate a statement to his own stenographer to be published.

"I don't want to have anything to do with this case, at all," were his last words.

MARTIN CASE IS WEAKENED

Many Believe Dynamiting of Gallagher Home Will Aid in Freeing Woman.

In the minds of many persons who have expressed their opinions concerning the case, the dynamiting of the Gallagher home last night has tended to weaken the case against Mrs. Martin so far as the prosecution is concerned.

"Well, Mrs. Martin can prove an alibi in this case," was the general saying, and as "Baby John" was in custody of the police at the time the explosion occurred, the young prisoner cannot be even suspected of having had a finger in the happening.

"That there are others, or at least one person who is capable of endangering the lives of a number of people to wreak vengeance, now goes without saying, and that that person is other than the woman now facing trial for the dynamiting of the home of Judge Ogden is evident. The explosion coming at this time has revived deep interest in the Martin case, the sensation features of which had been partially forgotten through other happenings. Mrs. Martin from the start has insisted that she is the victim of circumstances and the occurrence of last night will result in a number of things with her and taking the ground that "Baby John's" confession is altogether too sensational to be given credence.

USED LOTS OF THE DYNAMITE

Force of Explosion Blows Post Through Telegraph Poles Across Street.

The terrific force of the explosion is indicated by the fact that one of the posts in front of the Gallagher home was blown more than 250 feet, diagonally, clear across the street, where it tore a hole straight through a telephone pole.

M. Miller, a powder expert, has been employed by the police and is working on the case.

Used at Least Ten Sticks of Dynamite

Miller states that in his opinion, such an explosion necessitated the use of at least ten sticks of high percentage dynamite, if it was dynamite that was used.

The detectives have practically abandoned the theory that the dynamite was exploded by a fuse. They also have thrown out the theory that the bomb was set off by a clock work arrangement.

No trace of fuse or clock work could be found.

It is now generally believed that the bomb was built on the lines of that alleged to have been used by "Baby John" Martin to blow up Judge Ogden's home.

Bomb Copied After Steunenberg's

According to "Baby" John's confession, the bomb that he used was copied after that employed by Harry Orchard in the assassination of ex-Governor Steunenberg, of Idaho, several years ago.

The detectives think that the Gallagher bomb consisted of two more sticks of dynamite, laid closely together in a box, with a bottle of acid jacking above the explosives, and that the bottle was broken by the explosion of a powder cap, which was set off by electricity, or the pulling of a cord by the hand of the agent, who stood far away out of danger.

Probably Exploded by Aid of Acid

The aid, in such a case, would escape from the broken bottle, or run out of the mouth if the cork were pulled out by a string, and then would cover the dynamite, setting off the explosion.

This was the nature of the bombs used by "Baby" John Martin and Harry Orchard, and is a common form.

rences in the annals of local police history, were slightly injured.

Fortunately There Were No Fatalities

In addition to Gallagher and his wife there were in the residence at the time of the explosion Mr. and Mrs. W. H. H. Schenck, brother-in-law and sister of Mrs. Gallagher, their four children—Harrison, Charles, George and Anita Schenck—and Dr. Guy Brown, a friend of the two families. Despite the fact that the explosion, which occurred at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, was of sufficient force to completely wreck the front of the house, shatter the stairways in the building and bring the walls and ceilings down in a cloud of blinding dust and plaster, no fatalities resulted.

Mrs. Gallagher Thrown To Floor and Stunned

Mrs. Gallagher was thrown to the floor and stunned; Mr. Schenck was slightly cut about the face with flying glass and his wife was rendered partially unconscious as she was hurled to the floor. Within a few minutes a large squad of police and detectives, headed by Captain of Detectives Petersen, was on hand. Pandemonium reigned supreme. Not a clue was found to attach even a suspicion to the guilty party or parties and all are at sea as to the real purpose and intent of the perpetrators of the deed.

As far as could be determined by the police after a careful investigation, the explosive—either dynamite or nitro-glycerine—had been placed and discharged in the ground floor entrance of the house between the storm and main door of the place. To the fact that heavy beams above and to the sides of the entrance offered great resistance to the force of the explosion is due the fact that the structure of the explosive tended downward, thus saving the house from utter destruction and the occupants from instant death. A ragged pit was torn under the front porch of the house, the floor settled, the walls leaned dangerously inward and the wreck of the front portion of the place was so complete that not a vestige of fuse or explosive could be found.

Schenck Family Had Just Eaten Their Dinner

The Schenck family had just completed the evening meal in the dining room at the time the explosion occurred. There was a crashing and rending of timbers, a deep intonation followed by a sudden roar, blinding flashes of light and then utter darkness. For a moment there was a horrid stillness, testifying in the minds of those in the house to death and complete destruction, but in a moment the shrill screams of the frightened occupants of the place aroused them to action, and they took their departure from the shattered home as soon as the injured women could be comforted and cared for.

Theories Come Thick And Fast From All

Within five minutes after the explosion every resident for blocks on both sides of Nineteenth avenue and across the street, was speculating in terror on the cause of the explosion. On every hand could be heard different theories as to the purpose of the crime. But all were ungrounded and none more so than the theory that the explosion was the work of a madman who had gathered in an effort to pick up a thread of evidence from the tattered ruin. That they were completely baffled was evident, although there were many rumors about as to the reason for the explosion.

Thought to Be 'Big Jim's' Political Enemies

The theory uppermost in the minds of the detectives was that the explosion had been aimed at Supervisor Gallagher by some of his political enemies. Others cautiously whispered the name of anarchists, while the majority admitted that they had no clear idea as to the purpose of the deed.

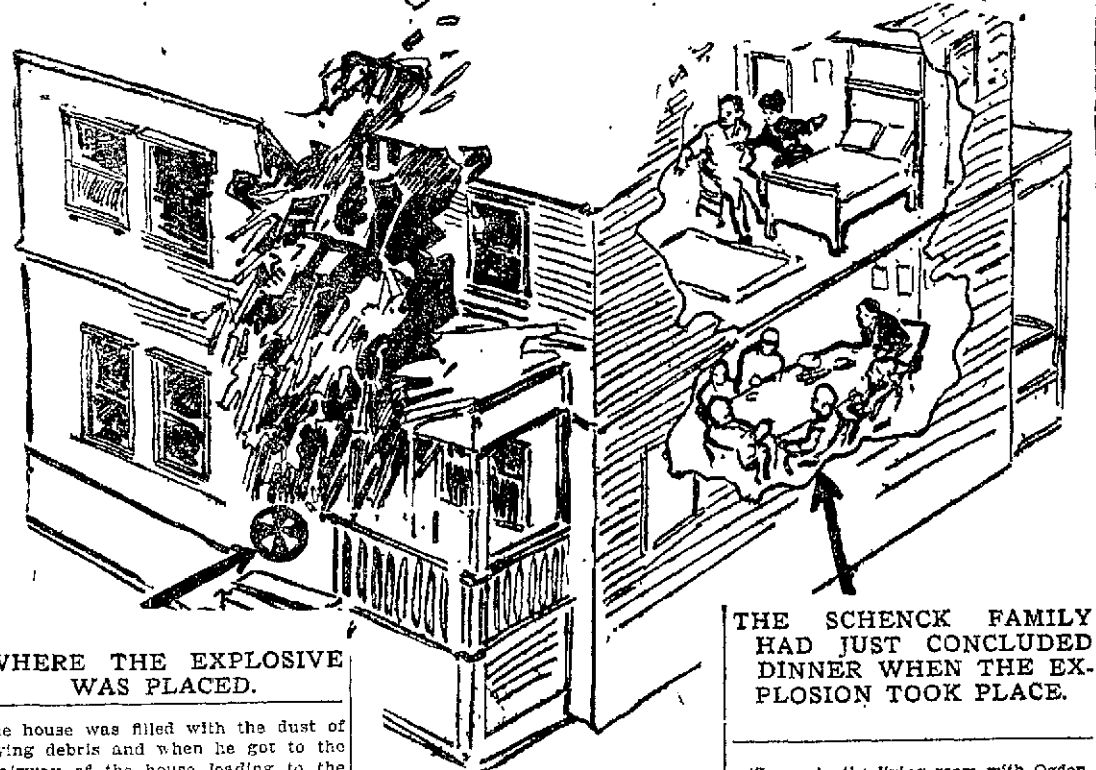

Insurance Man's Home Is Badly Shaken Up

There were some who presumed that an attempt had been made on the life of Thomas Gardner, cashier of the Firemen's Fund Insurance Company of San Francisco, who owns the house occupied by Gallagher and his wife and who lives in the adjoining residence. He was at home with his wife and three children when the explosion took place. Every window in his home was broken and the members of the family were terrorized. The many threats made against insurance people shortly after the disaster of two years ago is still fresh in the minds of the public, thousands of property owners having expressed their dissatisfaction at the handling of the affairs by those who had insured their property which was destroyed.

Gallagher in Bedroom At Home with His Wife

There was a wild scene of confusion and fright in the wrecked home just after the explosion. Every person in the place was thrown to the floor wherever they happened to be standing or sitting. Gallagher, who was in his bedroom with his wife, on the second floor, was the first to recover. His wife, who was stunned by the shock, was gently picked up and placed on a lounge in the room, while the Supervisor rushed into the hallway to inquire after the safety of other occupants of the house. The hallway of the house was filled with the dust of flying debris and when he got to the stairway of the house leading to the ground floor he found the stairs demolished six feet from the first landing.

Entire Family Was Upset and Excited

Gallagher swung himself down and ran into the diningroom. Here he found his brother-in-law, his wife and their children running terrified around the dining table. Mrs. Schenck had at first been stunned but quickly recovered. All members of the Schenck family with the exception of Charles had been seated at the table when the explosion occurred, leaving out the front wall of the room and sending them sprawling under a heap of debris.

Schenck Was Cut With Flying Glass

Mr. Schenck arose from the floor with the blood streaming from his face and it was at first presumed that he had been seriously injured. It was soon learned, however, that his face was merely scratched with pieces of flying glass. Dr. Brown, a young dentist who had been visiting the family, was standing in the hallway about to take his departure, when he was knocked down by the force of the explosion. As soon as he could regain his feet he ran to the assistance of those in the diningroom. Dr. Brown and Supervisor Gallagher met in the hallway. Gallagher, fearing that there might be more explosions, advised all hands to leave the house by the rear hallway door. He then climbed back to the second floor and comforting his wife, who had partially recovered from the shock, took her with him out of the rear entrance of the home.

Many Other Homes Suffered From Explosion

There was soon an excited gathering on the lawn in the neighborhood of "Baby John's" home. The Gardners were the first to join the throng. The occupants of the dynamited house, George McDonald and his family who occupied a home in the neighborhood, were soon an addition to the company. McDonald, his wife, three sons, Alex, George, James and William, and their daughters, Christina, May, Rachel, and an infant girl in arms were in the McDonald home when the explosion occurred. The inside of the McDonald home was considerably wrecked, plaster being torn down, windows shattered and mirrors and glassware being broken.

'Baby' John Marlin Goes to Place With Police

One of the features of the mysterious affair was the interest taken by "Baby John" Marlin, who went to the scene with the police. It was his confession which pointed the finger of suspicion toward Mrs. Isabella Martin, his reputed mother, and resulted in her being confined on a charge of dynamiting the home of Superior Judge Ogden. "Baby John" Marlin is in Oakland as a principal witness for the prosecution against the accused woman.

No One Killed

That no one was killed was little short of a miracle. Gallagher, as soon as he realized that an attempt had been made to take his life, made hasty preparations to leave for San Francisco. He took a ferry shortly before 10 o'clock.

Saw the Flash

Mrs. A. Kretz, living at 1321 Nineteenth avenue, was standing at her pantry window when the bomb exploded and saw the flash. She did not see any one running away. Five windows were smashed in her house.

Detectives on Hunt for Clues

At an early hour this morning Captain of Detectives Petersen and men of the detective department went to the scene of the explosion. Last night the neighborhood was scoured by the sleuths, but nothing resulted from the search. What appeared to be a burnt-out fuse was found by Hodgkins last night under the wrecked porch, but when it was taken into the light and examined carefully it proved to be the remains of an umbrella cover which had presumably been left on the front porch by some occupant of the house. It is not believed that the party who set off the explosives carried an umbrella, and had unintentionally left it on the front porch.

Believe Slow Fuse Was Used

From the appearance of the building, Detective Hodgkins, who was first on the scene last night, is of the opinion that the explosive was placed in the vestibule of the building and set off by a slow fuse. Like the rest of the police, however, Hodgkins does not attempt to advance an opinion as to the identity of the perpetrator of the deed, the reason for the act or the character of the explosive used, declaring there is no material evidence on which to base an opinion in either direction. The detectives and police are still hard at work on the case.

DENIES BOMB WAS FOR HIM

Insurance Man Declares Rumor to This Effect Is Absurd.

Thomas M. Gardner, treasurer of the Firemen's Fund Insurance company, in San Francisco, who lives at 1375 Nineteenth avenue, next door to the Gallagher home, when seen at his office this morning, said in part:

"I know nothing more about the explosion than that it occurred between 7 and 7:30 o'clock last night.

"The rumor to the effect that the explosion was directed at me by an enemy with whom I have had trouble over insurance, and that the person who did it got mixed in the numbers on the houses and blew up Gallagher's place instead of mine by mistake, is absurd.

"I have always gotten along all right in my business with every body. I haven't got an enemy in the world, so far as I know, and I am certain that no one hates me so bitterly that he would go to such lengths and resort to such dastardly and cowardly means to exterminate me and my whole family."

Thought It Earthquake

Mrs. Gardner, wife of Thomas M. Gardner, said at her home this morning:

"Mr. Gardner had come home a little later than usual, and he was just finishing his supper in the dining room when the explosion occurred.

Gallagher Had Been Warned of Danger

By James L. Gallagher

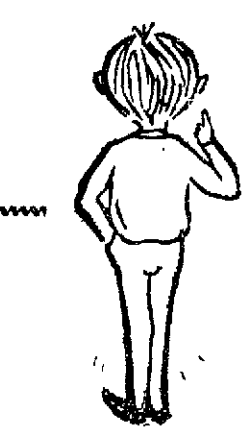

"If they think that they can intimidate me, they are mistaken. I'm no quitter and they will not attain their object. I don't know how it happened. I was upstairs with my wife when the explosion occurred and at first thought that the whole house would fall to the ground. I grabbed Mrs. Gallagher as the shock threw her off her balance, and after caring for her I started downstairs.

"The stairs were blown away and I had to swing down several feet to the lower floor. The sight was terrible and I vowed as I viewed their dastardly work that I would not be a quitter, but would see everything through. Thank God, no one was seriously injured.

"Honey commented in one of his speeches a short time ago on the probable attempts that would be made to get rid of witnesses in connection with the graft prosecution.

"Personally, I had several indirect warnings that an attempt or attempts would be made to do me bodily harm, but I did not pay any particular attention to them.

"Of course, I have my own suspicions, but would not care to voice them at the present time. That will all come out at the right time."

CLAIMS KENNAN STORY IS FALSE

Magazine Article by Well-Known Writer Comes Up in Libel Suit.

SAN RAFAEL, April 22.—The confession of Thomas F. Reagan of the facts that his police commissioner under the Ruf regime he had held up saloons was recited here by Fremont Older, to whom it was made, in the suit for libel Reagan is prosecuting against the San Francisco News Company. Reagan claims the story written by George Kennan in McClure's magazine, which was distributed locally by the news company, is false.

Sailor Loses Life Swimming to Ship

REDONDO, April 23.—An unidentified sailor, supposed to have been one of the crew of the battleship Alabama, was drowned off the pier last night while attempting to swim to his ship, which lay about 300 yards off the wharf. Several persons saw the man jump and a life buoy was thrown to him, but he perished in his effort to gain the ship until he sank from view. The body had not been recovered up to noon today. It is supposed that the sailor had overstayed his leave and tried to reach the ship rather than spend the night on shore.

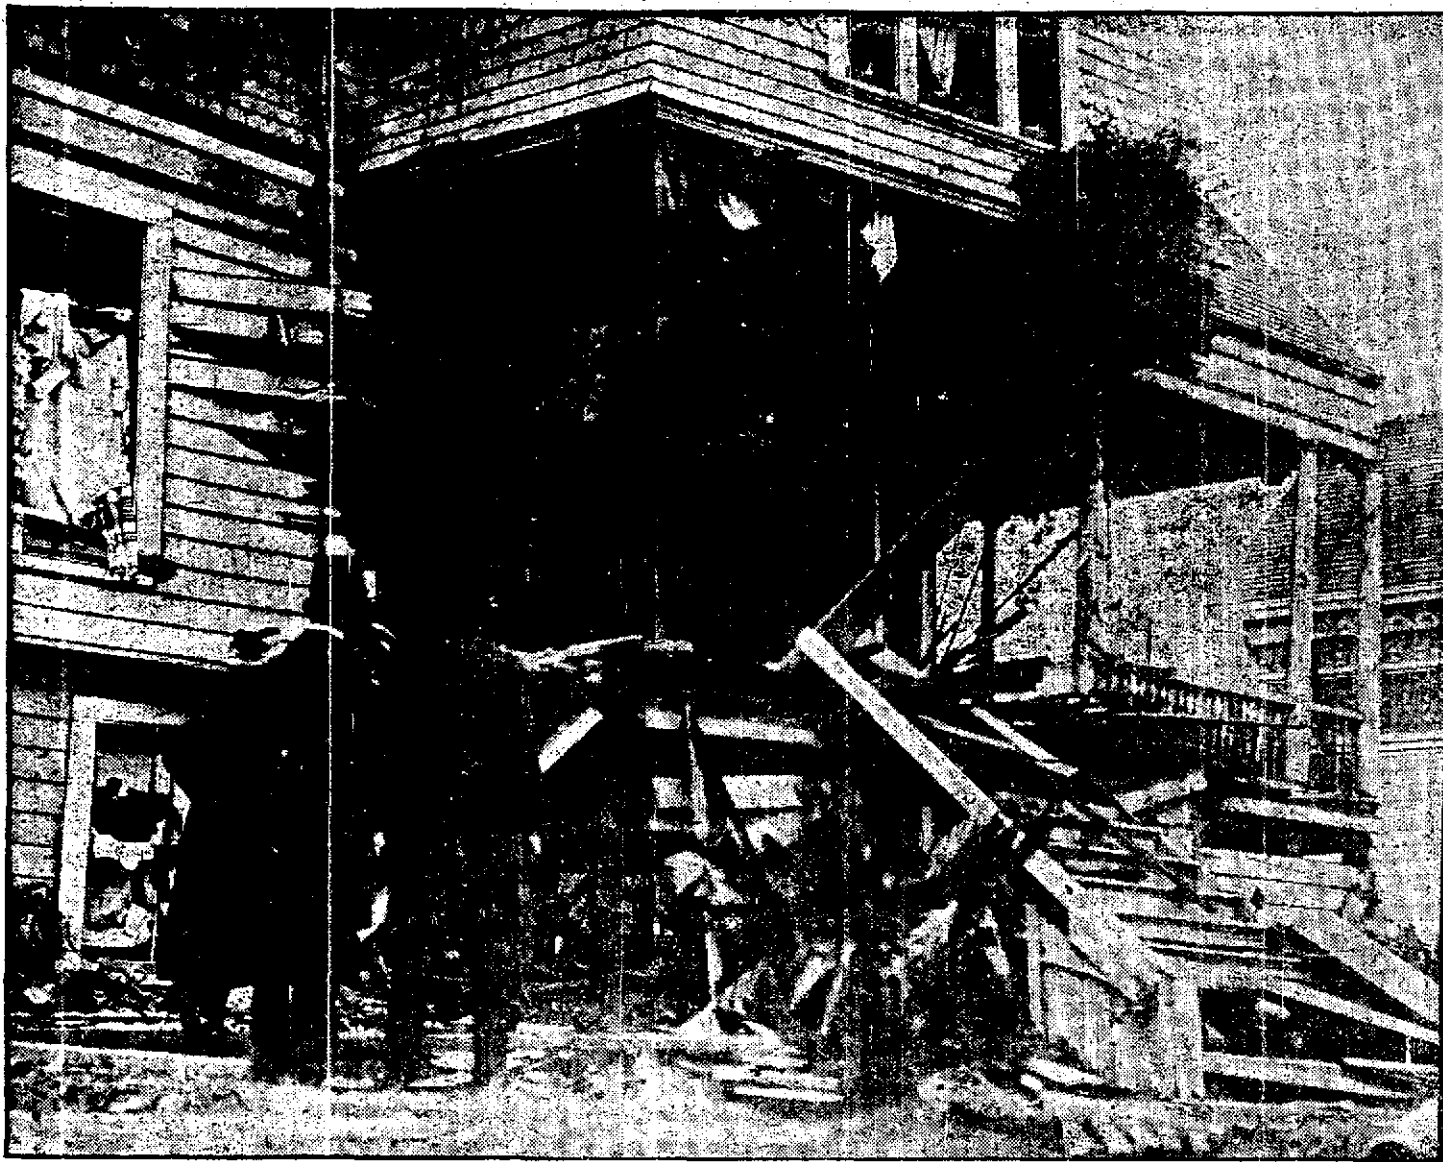

I think I am responsible for it, that I care to express.

"I know that it couldn't have been aimed at us and then set off at the Gallagher house by mistake. My husband has no enemies who would want to injure him that way.

"I don't believe anybody in the neighborhood is responsible, because the Gallaghers were on good terms socially with everybody around them."

POLICE ARE WORKING HARD TO LOCATE THE DYNAMITERS

Showing the Damage Done by the Explosives at the Home of Gallagher

LANGDON'S OFFICE IS AT WORK

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—The San Francisco District Attorney's office will begin an immediate investigation on this side of the bay into the circumstances leading up to the dynamiting of the home of former Supervisor Gallagher in East Oakland last evening. Acting District Attorney Robert Harrison, who is in charge of the District Attorney's office during the absence of William H. Langdon, who is on his wedding trip, although he made no statement as to his intentions, intimated that an investigation was already in progress.

Special Sleuths Are Now at Work

It is known that three of the special detectives in the employ of "Gum Shoe" Burns left the city on an early boat and proceeded direct to the Gallagher residence to look over the ground. The prosecution greatly regrets that Burns is absent from town at this crucial moment, but three of his best sleuths have been put on the case and it is understood that a conference will be held at the District Attorney's office after court adjourns this afternoon, which will include all the legal lights of the prosecution, including the District Attorney, Francis J. Heney, J. J. Dwyer, John O'Connell and William Hoff Coon, besides acting District Attorney Harrison.

WAS GLAD THAT NO ONE WAS HURT

(By A. A. Moore, Chief Counsel for Tires L. Ford.)
"I know nothing of it, save what I got from press reports. I cannot understand or conceive the kind of man it could be who would for private purposes against one man, deliberately attempt by assassination to kill a half dozen of other people with him, including women and children."
"I am pleased beyond expression that no one was seriously injured (if at all injured) for, aside from the humane idea, General Ford is on trial, Gallagher is already testified and the blowing up, whether killing or injuring him could in no way be of benefit. It is effective at all it would be injurious."
"If a miscreant really intended to kill or maim all or any of the inmates, all good people must rejoice in the fact that he was originally a good bungler."

PROSECUTION WILL LOOK INTO CASE

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—The prosecution will certainly make a more thorough investigation of the dastardly attempt to kill one of the most important witnesses for the State in the bribery-graft cases," said Assistant District Attorney Francis J. Heney this morning, speaking to the Associated Press representative just before Judge Dooling convened court to resume the examination of veniremen to complete the jury for the trial of Abraham Ruef.

Gallagher Was Warned

"I am satisfied that it was not the work of a fanatic or crank," declared the Assistant District Attorney. "Neither did the attempt upon Gallagher's life surprise me. I warned him more than

FINDS 14 BOMBS HIDDEN IN HOUSE

Rushes to Give Them to Police and Is Arrested

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—As the result of the blowing up of the home of James L. Gallagher, formerly boodling Supervisor, in Oakland last evening, fourteen dynamite bombs were turned over to the police this morning by T. Winslip, proprietor of a fruit store at Green and Hyde streets, who found them at noon on Tuesday in a vacant house at Jones and Filbert street.

read in a newspaper of the explosion across the bay, he rushed into the street and back to his home, where he plunged into the cellar and brought from a hiding place a box containing twelve bombs, together with two others wrapped in a piece of newspaper.

Arrested for Maniac.
Holding these trembling in his hands, he set out in search of a policeman. Officer William H. Cannon was standing two blocks away and when Winslip rushed up to him and thrust the infernal machines into his hand, he thought he was dealing with either a maniac or an anarchist, and placed the man under arrest.

Although he could scarcely speak from fear, the fruit dealer was at length able to explain to the officer that he was not the guilty person, and stated that when he was moving into the house at Jones and Filbert streets, he found the bombs lying upon the floor. He realized that they might be dangerous and so placed them in a secluded part of the cellar. Reading of the wrecking of Gallagher's home, however, was too much for his nerves, and he sought to get rid of the explosives immediately.

Police Have Nerves.
After letting Winslip go, Policeman Cannon, carrying the bombs at arms' length, proceeded to the Central Station, and when he laid them upon the table in the assembly room, fifteen policemen, who had been chatting about, melted away.

The bombs are made in the regular shape of infernal machines, and the fourteen of them would be enough to blow up a whole block.

ARRESTS TO BE MADE SHORTLY

Chief Biggy Offers Assistance to Local Detectives in Dynamite Case.

Chief of Police Wilson had nothing to say concerning the wrecking of the Gallagher home last night. He has detailed his men on the case, who are acting under Captain of Detectives Petersen, now in sole charge of the affair.

Chief of Police Biggy of San Francisco has offered assistance provided the Oakland officials find that they are getting in beyond their depth. So far no assistance has been requested. "Arrests will be made and shortly at that," was all that Captain Petersen cared to say this morning except to discuss the case in a general way.

HEAVY TIMBER SAVES LIVES

Force of the Explosion Goes Downward Jarring House Foundation.

BY CAPTAIN OF DETECTIVES PETERSEN.
"Whatever suspicions have been aroused will remain as secret, at least for the time being. As soon as something definite develops I will be glad to make the facts known. It is hard to determine what the explosive was. It may have been dynamite and again it may have been nitro-glycerine. The force of the explosion was downward. This was probably due, however, to the resistance of the heavy timbers in the vestibule in which the explosive was placed. It is to the fact that all of the occupants of the house owe their lives. Had the greatest force of the explosion been upward the house would have been reduced to kindling wood. As far as I could determine, the general trend of the explosion was downward and outward. This jarring the foundations out of place and threw the upper stories of the house together."

"BABY" JOHN'S VERSION OF OUTRAGE

"Baby" John, who since he has been acting as a witness against his mother, spends all his time with the police, was with the squad who went to the scene last night. He has confessed to several dynamite outrages. Speaking of last night's explosion, he said:

"It is evident whoever did it did not know his business. In the first place, if he had placed the dynamite directly under the doorstop the force would have gone upward and knocked the place sky-high."

"From my experience with dynamite I should judge that about five pounds were used. This, if properly placed, would have proved more than sufficient. The fellow in placing the dynamite thought that by putting it up against the storm door he would obtain sufficient resistance to scatter the force. He did not count upon some heavy timbers which held up the second floor. These prevented the force from going all of the way up and sent it down."

"I think," he continued, "that the fellow used one of those little clock works to set it off with. That gave him plenty of time to escape. If he had only placed the stuff where it would have had just a little resistance and not enough to prevent it from going up and down, the way Mrs. Martin wanted me to do in dynamiting Judge Ogden's house, it would have been all right. He would have blown the place clear out of the ground."

"Probably the pieces of the umbrella found by Detective Hodgkins belonged to the man who set the explosion off. Wouldn't be surprised if he did not leave it on the porch."

ABE RUEF IS SHOCKED

(By Abe Ruef.)
"I'm very much astounded at this attempt on the life of Mr. Gallagher. It is a regrettable, dastardly thing. Ever since the beginning of this prosecution threatening letters have been sent. The last letter I got was couched in elegant language. It was signed with a coffin and cross-bones. There were some Hebrew and Sanscrit letters, which when translated contained threats of death with bombs of all kinds. It referred to the fact that the city was kept in a state of turmoil on account of the present prosecution and referred to my alleged refusal to testify against the higher-ups. The letter had a San Francisco postmark."

John S. Drum Weds Miss Georgia Speiker

MRS. JOHN S. DRUM.

John S. Drum, the well-known and popular attorney of San Francisco, was married yesterday to Miss Georgia Speiker at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Speiker, in Ross Valley. The wedding, which was private, took place at 1 o'clock on the lawn in front of the beautiful home.

Archbishop Riordan of San Francisco officiated at the ceremony, assisted by Father Ramm. The bride was attired in an exquisite combination of hand-embroidered French linen and fine lace. She carried a bouquet of white orchids.

After the ceremony there was a wedding breakfast, and Mr. and Mrs. Drum left in an automobile, amid a shower of rice.

The couple will continue in their car for several weeks, touring the south, and upon their return will spend the summer at the Speiker home in Ross Valley.

The day was perfect and the beautiful decorations of the house and grounds made a brilliant display. There was no attempt at formality. There were no bridesmaids and no best man.

The following guests were present: Elmer Breckenfeld, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Breckenfeld, Frank Drum, Mr. and Mrs. Geer Hitchcock, Miss Meta Breckenfeld, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Speiker, Mrs. Sarah Drum, Warren Speiker, Archbishop Riordan, Father Ramm, Will Drum, Mrs. M. Lackley, Gordon Hitchcock, and three children who acted as pages.

DASTARDLY THING

(By Henry Ach, Chief Counsel for Abraham Ruef.)
"The attempt on the life of Mr. Gallagher is a most dastardly thing. No one hopes more than I do that the perpetrator of the deed will be apprehended and punished. The only way I can account for the deed is that it was the work of some crank or some one having some personal grievance."

FAINTS WHEN HUSBAND RECEIVES HIS SENTENCE

With Piercing Shriek Young Bride Falls

(Special to the Tribune.)
SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—With a piercing shriek which sounded long and loud, in Judge Cabanis' courtroom, and which re-echoed through the long corridor in the hall of justice, pretty Mrs. Frederick Avery, whose husband was formerly a bolshoi at the St. Francis Hotel, fainted away as her husband was sentenced to three months in the county jail, and was carried unconscious into the judge's chambers, where she remained for more than an hour before recovering. Avery was arrested on March 20 by Detectives Wren and Ritoran on a charge of stealing a watch from the room of Thomas P. Khating at the St. Francis Hotel. He was charged with grand larceny, but subsequently pleaded guilty to petty larceny. Today was the time for passing sentence, and as he stood before the court he trembled slightly and looked over to his young wife, to whom he had been married but a few days before committing the crime. As the words which would send him to the house of correction for three months fell from the judge's lips, Mrs. Avery, with a shriek of despair, fell to the floor of the courtroom before any of the bystanders could catch her, and was carried out unconscious.

EVANS GETS RARE RELIC OF LORD NELSON

Officers of Fleet Taken on 100-Mile Auto Tour—Thousands of Visitors Crowd the Ships.

LOS ANGELES, April 22.—A perfect day followed the storm of yesterday and the numerous events planned in the program for the entertainment of the Atlantic fleet were held under the most delightful conditions. The principal feature of the day was an automobile parade for 250 officers under direction of the local committee, which occupied the entire day. More than 75 machines were in line. The rain which fell yesterday had laid all dust and pine the country roads in the most perfect condition. Admirals Thomas, Sperry and Emory and all of the captains of the fleet were in the first machines in which were also Mayor Harper and other prominent men of the city.

Visit Pasadena

The start of the automobile tour was made from the Hotel Alexandria at 10 o'clock. The route led eastward through the city, over Pasadena boulevard, and to Pasadena, where luncheon was served at noon at the Hotel Maryland. The Pasadena reception committee met the party on the road and escorted them into the city. At the hotel Mayor Hardy made a brief address of welcome, and presented the freedom of this city to the visitors.

Greeted by Veterans

Following this, the tour continued over Sunset boulevard to Hollywood, where they were again entertained. Later they proceeded up to Sherman, Beverly Hills, and to the latter place a stop of half an hour was made and visit paid to the National Soldiers' Home. An informal reception to the visiting officers was given by the 5000 veterans of the home.

Rare Gift to Evans

At Santa Monica a presentation ceremony of unusual interest was held. The city of Santa Monica, through Mayor Dudley, presented to Admiral Evans an historic gavel used by Lord Nelson, the British admiral. Admiral Thomas, in a graceful speech, accepted the present on behalf of the commander-in-chief. The gavel was formerly owned by C. W. Felt and was acquired by him in England several years ago. The piece is of bronze and on its side are the words deeply engraved: "Horatio Nelson, Victory." It is said to have come originally from one of the sailors of Nelson's fleet.

Many Visit Ships

Many thousands of visitors were aboard the various ships. The crowds went early from Los Angeles and the beach cities were thronged. Probably more people visited the ships today than on any other day since their arrival. The program for the enlisted men which was interrupted yesterday was continued today. Thousands of sailors and citizens thronged Chutes Park by 10 o'clock. The principal fleet championship boxing events were scheduled for today. Heavy weights, welterweights and middleweights were contestants. The remainder of the program was the same as on previous days, comprising everything from balloon ascensions to vaudeville shows. In the afternoon the wild west show was given at Agricultural park.

To Restore Name Of "Jeff" Davis On Famous Bridge

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Representative Carlin is preparing to introduce a resolution in the House calling upon the Secretary of War to make an investigation into the removal of the name of Jefferson Davis from the famous "Cabin John Bridge." Carlin's resolution is the forerunner of a second resolution which he will introduce, directing the name to be restored to its former place on the bridge.

The removal of the name of the late President of the Confederacy from the stonework of the bridge has long been a mystery. Object to Strong Medicines. Many people object to taking the strong medicines usually prescribed by physicians for rheumatism. There is no need of internal treatment in any case of muscular or chronic rheumatism, and more than nine out of every ten cases of the disease are of one or the other of these varieties. ## EVIDENCE IN THE TRIAL OF T. I. FORD to use the overhead trolley system for five years only, for the reason that at the expiration of that time the wires would have to be taken down, the roads rebuilt and an entirely new style of car would have to be supplied.

Ex-Supervisors Testify.

Ex-Supervisor Sanderson told, practically the same story. Sanderson was followed by ex-Supervisor Nicholas, who admitted the acceptance of money.

"Were you," asked Stanley Moore, "aware of the fact that Rudolph Spreckels and his father, Claus Spreckels, had organized a corporation for the purpose of operating street car lines in this city?"

The question was objected to.

"Were you," repeated Moore, "aware of the fact that Rudolph Spreckels and his father, Claus Spreckels, had organized a company to run street cars in this city, especially on Sutter street, and to have a change made in the law to enable them to run cars for ten blocks on the tracks of the United Railroads, then turn off for one block, and return and run on the United Railroad tracks for ten blocks more?"

There was a long argument over an objection to this question, but the court finally sustained it.

The same question was put in different form and allowed, Nicholas stating that he understood that the Spreckels intended doing something of that kind.

Ex-Supervisor Phillips was on the stand when the time for the noon adjournment arrived. He was cross-examined by Attorney Byington and showed a very faulty memory.

YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

At the Ford trial yesterday afternoon Supervisors continued to tell their oft-told tale of bribery, save with respect to the denomination of the bills which are alleged to have constituted the first and second payments in the trolley franchise.

O'Gara's opening address was, in effect, that the first payment consisted of small and the second of bills of large denomination. The supervisory mind has been rickety on that point in preceding trials and the effort it is now making to become positive on this point is evident. This is all the more noticeable for the reason that these same supervisors have admitted that this subject was the cause for a meeting, ordered by Burns a few days ago, which was presided over by O'Gara, who appears for the prosecution in the case, in order that the supervisory mind might be "refreshed."

Kelley Mixed Up.

Ex-Supervisor Kelley admitted getting money and, on cross-examination, he, like the other supervisors, got mixed up in his story of the denomination of bills he had received for his votes, in the first installment payments in the trolley franchise. Reference to his testimony at the preceding trial showed that Kelley had sworn that the bills in the first installment were large ones. Yesterday, he said that the denominations ranged from $5 to $20, and that the bills in the second installment were large ones.

The radical departure in the testimony in this respect from that previously given, taken in connection with the fact that this feature was considered at the ex-supervisors' meeting Tuesday night of last week, caused the auditors to smile. Kelley stated that he had been in favor of the overhead trolley and that while he had resigned as a supervisor, he did so against his wishes. He wanted, in other words, to resign in his own way, that is, to protest against being driven out of office.

Money From Gallagher.

Edward J. Walsh, another one of the ex-supervisors, acknowledged that his palm had been crossed with money from Gallagher to the amount of $4000. On cross-examination, he said that nobody had spoken to him about the trolley franchise before the passage of the ordinance. The bills in the first installment ranged from $5 to $20, he said. The second $2000 which he received he put in an envelope which he did not open for several weeks. He was sure that the denomination was but he thought it was $50.

Then Stanley Moore confronted the witness with the testimony the latter had given in the first trial, which showed that the bills he had received were large ones. Walsh admitted that he had been excused from attending the meeting at the district attorney's office of ex-supervisors, which had been called by Burns but that he had called, by appointment at the same office the next day, at 4 o'clock and remained there an hour. He stated that while he was there, he had been asked about the payments he had received.

Boxton Again Confesses.

Dr. Charles Boxton, another one of the trolley ex-supervisors, who was for a short period Mayor of San Francisco, having been elected to the position by the board of supervisors, testified that he had received his share of the tainted money. He was the first member of the board to make a statement of his short-comings, having been induced thereto by the fact that he had been trapped by Roy into

DRAMA ON LIFE OF IRISH PATRIOT IS TO BE GIVEN

Robert Emmet's Career in Historical Play

RICHARD RYAN, WHO TAKES THE PART OF DARBY O'GAFF. P. LOUGHRANE WEINHOLZ, WHO IMPERSONATES ROBERT EMMET.

"Robert Emmet" is a patriotic and witty historical drama woven around the life of the Irish patriot and martyr. All the dramatic incidents of the most dramatic page in Irish history will be brought out in the play and the audience will readily realize that the cast has an excellent conception of what goes to make an Irish play popular and realistic.

P. Loughrane Weinholz, an Irish-American and San Francisco man of remarkable dramatic ability, will play the title role and by his deft touches and true impersonation show Emmet's lofty aims and ideals which made him one of the world's most remarkable personages.

May McSorley is the beautiful Irish girl whose exquisite portrayal of Sarah Curran on former occasions has won round after round of applause. Sarah Curran's devotion to Emmet is pathetic in its staging and would dispose the audience to tears does not Judy, her maid, appear to speak words of comfort and hope as none but Judy can.

Noting the skating rink ordinance Judy has spoken to him about money being in the trolley franchise before its passage.

Stanley Moore in cross-examination induced Boxton to tell that he had been trapped by Roy and the graft prosecution and that he had made an admission to that effect to Burns at the house of one Radke and that Burns had insisted upon his denying any statement to that effect which might be made public, even though Boxton might have to make an affidavit for the purpose of strengthening that denial.

"Are you positive, Dr. Boxton," asked Moore, "that Burns told you to deny the statement if such should appear, by affidavit?"

"Yes, quite satisfied," was the answer.

"Question" in Mind. Boxton also admitted having signed an affidavit to the effect that he had never committed a felony or a crime of any kind. Moore asked if that was a true statement and the witness replied that there was some question about it in his mind.

Ex-Supervisor Samuel Davis, who testified before the Grand Jury that the first installment of bribery which he received was in bills of large denomination, admitted that he was mistaken in that regard and that his payment consisted of small bills.

Then there was a little spat between O'Gara and Byington, the latter having taken occasion to resent by an appeal to the court the interruption by O'Gara of a question which was being propounded by Stanley Moore.

O'Gara objected to the interruption of Byington into the matter. Judge Lawlor asked if it would not be better to allow Moore to speak for himself.

Byington said he had a right to speak for Moore, in view of the interruption and interference of O'Gara.

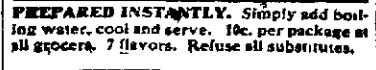

Stanley Moore stated that Byington had such a right.

Then O'Gara arose and stated that Byington wanted to have and to own everything and everybody.

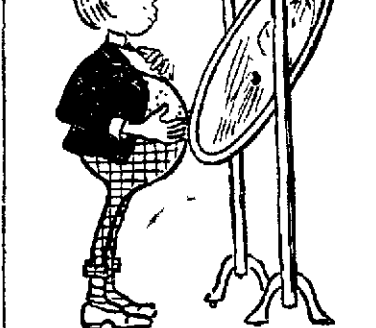

Byington Thankful. "I don't own O'Gara for which I am thankful," retorted Byington.

"I am glad," said O'Gara, "that I never belonged to you."

Then Byington came back. "You never had a chance to belong to me. I never extended the invitation. I had the opportunity to extend it, but I didn't do it."

Jury for Wilkins Reaches Verdict of First Degree in 15 Minutes.

Mark A. Wilkins was found guilty of murder in the first degree in Superior Judge Melvin's court yesterday afternoon, and unless a new trial is granted him, he will hang. Wilkins was accused of the murder of his putative wife, Mrs. Vernie Carmine, whom it was alleged he had poisoned with strychnine and then buried her body in quicklime in a shed in the rear of his home at Elmhurst.

A new record was established by the jury in the time consumed in arriving at a verdict. The jury was out about fifteen minutes. On the first ballot all voted Wilkins guilty, but some wanted life imprisonment as a penalty. A second ballot was taken and all voted for conviction, without recommendation for leniency.

Murderer Winsces. After his fate had been placed in the hands of the jury Wilkins remained in the courtroom. When a knock was heard on the jury room door, Wilkins winced and his body trembled. When the verdict was read the condemned man's head trembled and sank for a moment and then almost immediately he recovered himself and assumed a defiant attitude trying to look each jurymen in the eye.

After the verdict had been read Attorney Hugh McIsaac, counsel for Wilkins, asked that the passing of sentence be continued until May 15, which was done. In the meantime, McIsaac is to travel East. Upon his return he will ask for a new trial for Wilkins.

Wilkins is the first white man to be convicted of murder in the first degree without recommendation in this county in nine years.

He says: "An attack of pneumonia left me so weak and with such a fearful cough that my friends declared consumption had me and death was on my heels. A DAINY DESSERT FOR SUNDAY
Lehnhardt, the Candy Man, Solves a Problem for Oakland Housekeepers.

One of the problems of housekeeping is to get something different and new for the dessert for Sunday dinner. It isn't so difficult when the cost isn't to be considered, but in the household where every penny counts it is hard to find something really good yet different from the ordinary run of puddings, pies and cakes.

Lehnhardt, the candy man on Broadway between 13th and 14th, has a new idea—He proposes to furnish, each Sunday, a novelty in a frozen dessert and to deliver to your house, Sunday a m enough for eight people for 75c.

Last Sunday he delivered burnt almond ice cream and it was delicious. Next Sunday he will have something else which will be announced in his advertisement Saturday night.

All these desserts are new and may be had in bricks combined with other items for 5c per quart extra—Lehnhardt's phone is Oakland 497 and he will be pleased to tell anyone over the phone what the next dessert will be, although it will not be publicly announced until Saturday.

WILL REMAIN PERMANENTLY

Eilers Music Co. Has Enlarged and Remodeled the Clay Street Salesrooms—They Are Now the Finest in Alameda Co.—Slightly Used Pianos at the Lowest Prices Ever Quoted.

It had been the intention of the Eilers Music Company, to close the Oakland store, as well as two of their stores in San Francisco and the one at Berkeley, before opening the big and magnificent fire-proof Market street store.

Although the Berkeley store is now closed, and the Van Ness avenue store in San Francisco is occupied by other tenants, plans for the Oakland establishment have been very much modified.

Many friends among Oakland business men strongly urged against the closing of the Oakland store. The improved financial condition and the granting of favorable lease concessions by our landlord caused us to alter our plans and to permanently continue the Oakland store. With this fact fully settled we have remodeled, renovated and enlarged the Oakland salesrooms at 1075 Clay street. They are now the most beautiful, airy and best lighted piano salesrooms in Alameda county. The Oakland organization of the Eilers Music Company, which has always been aggressive, has been still further strengthened. Our prices on medium and high grade pianos which were always lower than any to be found elsewhere are now lower than they have ever been before.

During our recent sale many old time customers insisted upon our accepting their used pianos as part payment for our splendid new ones. Most of these used pianos can scarcely be told from new. They were in homes where the owners could not play and were exchanged for our famous Auto-piano in most cases. We received them at a very low price because the new instruments purchased were bought at sale figures. These instruments are now offered at prices which would be absolutely impossible had they been acquired in any other way. They are fully warranted and you are protected by the Eilers guarantee—"Complete satisfaction or money back that goes with each sale. A partial list follows:

Mrs. Ruth Bryan Leavitt, daughter of William Jennings Bryan, has written from Cairo, Egypt, a formal letter declining to act as delegate representing the women of her state at the national democratic convention. GIRL MASQUERADES AS A BOY Wears Men's Clothes and Works as Salesman for Haberdasher

CHICAGO, April 23. — A remarkable case of a girl successfully posing as a boy has come to light in Chicago. The strange masquerade was based upon the discovery that a "boy clerk," who had served in that capacity for eleven months in H. F. Michaels' men's furnishing store, 117 Eighteenth street, is in fact, a young woman. The heroine of this escapade is Miss Mary E. Phelan, 21 years old. She is now living with her parents at 6816 Vincennes road. A "love" affair with another girl, Louise Phelan, was the cause of her disclosing her real identity. Before going to work for Mr. Michaels Miss Phelan was employed for two weeks as errand boy under the name of Jess Fay in Klein Brothers' store at State and Eighteenth streets. While thus employed she went into Michaels' store to buy a shirt. Michaels liked the "boy's" looks, offered him a job as salesman, and the following week found "him" installed behind the counter in the haberdashery. He—she—told Michaels "he" had run away from home in Cheyenne, Wyoming, to seek "his" fortune in Chicago. She made a bright, handsome "boy," was a good salesman, and made many friends in the neighborhood, especially among the girls. All went smoothly until five weeks ago, when Jess Fay disappeared from the ken of "his" employer. The mystery was not cleared up until Miss Louise Phelan, with whom Jess had been keeping company, called on Mrs. Michaels with a bundle of pictures and letters from Miss Phelan. The pictures were of him and the letters from her. He—she—told Michaels "he" had run away from home in Cheyenne, Wyoming, to seek "his" fortune in Chicago. Dorothy Elizabeth Joseph, age 1 year, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Joseph, 1966 West street, Oakland.

Ethel Emily Rosenblind, age 6 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Rosenblind, 644 Fifth street, Vallejo.

GO TO SCHOOL TO BE FED Attendance Increases With Appearance of Free Lunches Charitable Girls Take Up Good Work.

NEW YORK, April 23. — One woman has so far succeeded in stirring up the interest of the people of Flushing, L. I., in the unfed children of the public school that the entire community has risen to the emergency. Merchants and society girls have alike tendered their aid, and so far has the movement advanced that the establishment of a settlement house is imminent. Miss Alice M. Tully on February 11, started a modest little lunchroom for the hungry pupils who were losing educational opportunities through lack of food. It was the baker who tendered the building at No. 75 Union street for the purpose, and when a practical demonstration of the need of the work was given in the noonday rush by the ravenous little pupils everybody grew excited. The coal man sent in fuel. The gas company supplied the gas gratis; the stove dealer presented Miss Tully with a range. It became a matter of personal pride to have some hand in it. All sorts of things were contributed for the daily food and money was generously given, so much so that on April 1, with a record of 2764 children fed, $40 still remained as the balance in the bank.

A family of five whose father was in the penitentiary and the mother struggling to make ends meet, and other pathetic cases were unearthed at every lunch hour. The society girls who came to offer help found the children ill-clad, and soon clothes were being furnished. Those of them who can pay give one penny each. To show their good will, Miss Tully has 600 pennies, and some of the public school teachers have had other funds given them. The lunches are given only with the proviso that each child entertained attend school. On school days the attendance has been from sixty to ninety; on Saturdays about twenty-five have come to be fed. These often bring their baby sisters or brothers, and it is in their interest that the settlement house has been projected. An endeavor is now being made to obtain a building opposite the lunch room for this purpose.

Guardian Prevents Marriage of Man 77 Years of Age

LANCASTER, Pa., April 23. — With her trousers all ready, Mrs. Sarah St. Claire, 60 years old, finds in the law a bar to her marriage with her girlhood lover. A few days ago she went to Kokomo, Ind., to wed Dr. Alexander C. Freeman, 77 years old. Mrs. St. Claire had hoped that the wedding would occur immediately, but she found the prospective bridegroom in charge of a guardian, who refused to allow him to marry. Thereupon, wedding clothes and all, Mrs. St. Claire appealed to the court for help. Mrs. St. Claire is at Kokomo, declaring that she will wait days, even months, until the obstacles are removed. Years ago they were engaged, says Mrs. St. Claire. Then, after a quarrel, Freeman disappeared. It was years before they met again, and widow and widower, they still loved.

COURT IN CASE OF SUSPENDS SENTENCE BIGAMIST BRIEFER

He Must Now Support Two Wives and Their Children

NEW YORK, April 23.—Judge Warren W. Foster in the General Sessions Court suspended sentence recently on Michael Briefer, a photographer at one time a resident of Decatur, Ill., who pleaded guilty recently to bigamy. The case had some notoriety because of the criticism directed against the court for suggesting at the time Briefer was arraigned for pleading that if he would furnish two bonds for the support of three children by two wives that he would take that into consideration in imposing sentence. It was declared in some quarters that such a disposition of the case tended to put a premium on bigamy. Criticism Undeserved. In suspending sentence Judge Foster said that any criticism in the matter was unwarranted. Louis Lowenstein, the defendant's counsel, appeared in court with two bonds subscribed to by Edward J. Schwab. One called for $364, out of which $7 a week was to be paid for the support of two children by the first wife. The other is for $156 at the rate of $3 a week for the support of the child by the second marriage. "I have conferred with the District Attorney in regard to this case and we both agree that the only proper disposition is to suspend the sentence," said Judge Foster. "This case acquired some general notoriety, as undeserved as unexpected, due to the seal and sagacity of our press. The district attorney and I both agree that it presents features which bring it squarely and fairly under the parole probation law. It is only fair that this man should support his children, and this is a practical, quick and common sense way to get support for the children." Turning to the prisoner, the judge said: "We agree that you are guilty of bigamy, which is against public policy and should be punished; but the circumstances of your case bring it under the parole law. Bonds that have been filed with the court may be utilized by the legal guardians of these children. "Any time within five years the court will send you away for the full penalty of your crime unless you play the part of a man, support your children and treat these two women decently and kindly."

CHOKES WIFEY BECAUSE HE CAN'T FIND NIGHTIE

NEW YORK, April 23. — A milking nightshirt was the cause of the final quarrel between Emil R. Bangs, 215 Pearsall avenue, Jersey City, and his wife, Alice M. Bangs, who got a separation decree from Vice-Chancellor Stevenson. Bangs is an expert accountant and owner of real estate. Mrs. Bangs is the daughter of Jacob McIntyre, of 213 Pearsall avenue. The couple were married in Jersey City in May, 1899, and have two children, whose custody is awarded to the mother, with a provision that Bangs may see them twice a week. Mrs. Bangs accused her husband of choking her, striking her, calling her a shameful name and swearing at her. She has dark brown eyes, brown hair, good features and slight figure. She wore a stylish brown costume. His wife's testimony, Bangs said, was a perversion of the facts. Her statement that he "did not believe in religion" was "an abominable lie." He was formerly a member of Dr. Hall's Presbyterian Church and Sunday school in New York, he said, but he had read and thought a good deal and his views had been modified. When their youngest child was born he and his wife had agreed that their children

"should be brought up as we were," but I objected to sending our children to a church filled with hypocrites. The night of the final quarrel, Bangs, Bergen Point, drank some beer with friends and got home after 11 o'clock. He couldn't find his nightshirt and asked for it sharply. His wife sprang out of bed at him, he said. He caught her by the throat by one hand. He didn't squeeze hard," he said. His wife said she would get the shirt and appeared meek. But when he released her she ran to a window and blew an alarm whistle, which brought her father, mother, brother and sister. He heard her father shout he was coming and answered back: "Come on, you old hypocrite." The old man and his son yelled Bangs and sat on him. All were very angry. Mrs. Bangs went home with her parents and has remained. Bangs found the nightshirt. He said the fact the whistle was answered so promptly by the McIntyres fully dressed, and the misplacing of his night shirt convinced him it was all a conspiracy. Bangs was ordered to pay his wife $15 a week.

SOCIETY

The marriage of Miss Edna Whitney and Robert Irving Bentley took place last evening at the home of the bride's cousin, Mrs. Walter Hughes Henry, in Linda Vista.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles R. Brown, and the bride was given into the groom's keeping by her father, Frederick Whitney. Over fifty relatives and close friends attended the wedding. The bride wore an exquisite gown of white satin and a long tulle veil, which fell in folds to the hem of the gown. Miss Esther Bentley attended as maid of honor and Miss Fatty Chickering as first bridesmaid. The bride was also attended by five other girls, including Miss Gladys English, Miss Inez Delaqueste, Miss Elinore Miller, Miss Florence Goddard and Miss Charlotte Morrison. The maids were all gowned alike in pink silk frocks and carried bridesmaid roses. The groom was attended by Fred Whitney, a brother of the bride. The house was beautifully decorated with fruit blossoms. An elaborate wedding supper was served late in the evening, after which Mr. and Mrs. Bentley left on their honeymoon trip. Mrs. Bentley is the daughter of Frederick Whitney, a well-known attorney and is a graduate of the State University and a popular member of the Kappa Gamma sorority at Berkeley. PUBLIC WOMEN ARE LOADED WITH LETTERS

No sooner does any one come before the public eye, particularly on the stage, than they are certain to be inundated with all manner of letters from all sorts and conditions of people. Mme. Tetrazzini, the new prima donna, who fairly took London by storm on her first appearance at Covent Garden, is no exception to the rule. She has received literally hundreds of epistles. Many of them are, of course, more or less ingenious requests for free passes. One woman wrote for Mme. Tetrazzini's autograph and the singer sent her her visiting card with her signature on the back. A few days later she received this letter from the lady: "Dear Madame, I have presented your card at the box office at Covent Garden for two seats, but they would not give them to me on your card alone. I herewith enclose card you sent me. Will you please write 'Obliged my good friend with two seats' and we will try again."

CHICAGO, April 23. — Mayor Busse was asked recently to become a matchmaker—of a sort—"first aid to Cupid"—during the glad leap year. James W. Do It Now

If you've found a task worth doing, Do it now. In delay there's danger brewing. Do it now. Don't you be a by-and-byer And a sluggish patience-tryer; If there's aught you would acquire, Do it now. If you'd earn a prize worth owning, Do it now. Drop all waiting and postponing, Do it now. Say, "I will," and then stick to it, Choose your purpose and pursue it, There's but one right way to do it, Do it now. All we have is just this minute, Do it now. Find your duty and begin it, Do it now. Surely you're not always going To be "a going-to-be," and knowing You must sometime make a showing, Do it now. —Nixon Waterman in Success.

DISCARDS HATPINS

Mrs. Richard Irvin has set a new fashion, namely, the disuse of hatpins. The other morning she was discovered under the surface of the earth, in a department store, slouching for reduced bonbons to be sold at her house for the benefit of corrupt government. She was made by the saleswomen as to whether her hair was attached with glue or if the laws of gravity kept a long tail and countless rolls of mixed gray from streaming down. However, Mrs. Irvin reached her motor without any casualties, her arms filled with charity candles. But as Mrs. Irvin's energies are not wholly consumed in the pursuit of charity, she devotes what is left over to her neighbors, an interest which, no matter how laudable in intent, is not appreciated. In fact, one poor lady in Fortieth street was so upset by her neighbor's polite attentions that she had her windows fitted with stained glass. Now she is not satisfied that something even more opaque is necessary. What the lady is doing that requires so much secrecy she does not say.

JAILED FOR DRUNKARD; DIES

Officials Are to Investigate Treatment Accorded by Police to Man Found Lying in Park.

(Special to The Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—A mystery which the police department and the coroner's office will make every effort to clear up during the day involves the peculiar death of Isaac Giles, 63 years old, a native of Maine, who was picked up in Golden Gate Park, near Huntington Falls, yesterday morning by Policeman G. Merchant and booked at the Park station on a charge of drunkenness.

Merchant found Giles lying on the grass, apparently intoxicated, with a whiskey bottle by his side. He summoned a patrol wagon and had the man removed to the station. At 2:30 this morning when his condition aroused the suspicion of the city prison turnkey he was started to the Emergency Hospital, dying on the way.

Captain Anderson of the Park station and Captain Duke of the Central station will investigate the treatment accorded the man by the several officers who had charge of him, in an effort to see if anyone is to blame for his not having received medical aid sooner.

A theory is that he was a victim of knoekout drops administered by one of the numerous "sharks" who operate in the park.

ILLINOIS DEMS WILD FOR BRYAN

Nebraskan Swamps Governor Johnson in State Convention.

SPRINGFIELD, April 23.—The Illinois Democratic State convention organized today, with the delegates enthusiastic for Bryan and bound to give instructions for him, backed by as strong an endorsement as they frame.

The Johnson men appeared on the scene three hours before the convention was called to order at 12:30 o'clock, and scattered much literature, but they made no progress in heading off the Bryan enthusiasm.

The first mention of Bryan's name was made in the address of Fred H. Morris, the temporary chairman, and evoked much enthusiasm, the greater part of the cheering coming, however, from outside the Chicago and Cook county delegations.

Rogers C. Sullivan, who completely dominated the convention took no part in the applause that followed the mention of Bryan's name, but sat undisturbed until it subsided.

"Personal Liberty" Plank.

The session came to an end with the receipt of the reports of the various district caucuses and the naming of the various committees. The committee on resolutions went into session immediately and a recess was taken.

Along session expected, on account of the divergence of opinion regarding the "personal liberty" plank.

During the afternoon, every mention of Bryan's name called forth an outburst of cheers, many delegates leaping upon their seats and waving their handkerchiefs repeatedly.

Martin thought they were the wire tappers who have been operating along the coast all winter, were arrested here late last night by Pinkerton Detective F. S. Marvin of San Francisco, and Deputy Sheriff D. J. Moran. The men had made all the connections to tap the special poolroom wires four miles beyond the city, the plan being to have confederates here bet on long shot horses.

The message announcing the winner of the race was to be intercepted by the men at the wires and false message declaring the horse on which the bet was made, the winner, substituted. The detectives who had been following them for several days, arrested them after all the connections had been made. Two confederates in this city succeeded in making their escape. The men arrested admit expecting to clean up $40,000 while operating around Portland, W. I. ## JUDGE MELVIN TO GIVE LECTURE TODAY

Judge Henry A. Melvin will deliver another lecture on legal medicine at 5 o'clock today, in the lecture hall of the Oakland College of Medicine and Surgery, Thirty-first and Grove streets.

The lecture had been scheduled for yesterday, and many lawyers and physicians of San Francisco and Oakland, who had come through the rain, were disappointed when Judge Melvin did not appear.

It was explained at the college that Judge Melvin was unavoidably detained, because it was necessary for him to attend to the jury which is sitting in the Wilkins' murder trial.

However, it was positively announced that Judge Melvin will deliver the lecture this afternoon.

LYNCHED

tion, was intoxicated and after threatening Dobbs shot and killed Arnold in what is said to have been a cold-blooded manner. Arnold was a butcher and one of the most prominent men in the camp.

He located the townsite of Skidoo and was heavily interested in mining. He was formerly Justice of the Peace there and had been instrumental in prosecuting Simpson on previous occasions.

Simpson walked into Arnold's store with the question, "What have you against me?"

On being told by Arnold that he had nothing against him Simpson pulled an automatic pistol and said, "Prepare to die; I am going to kill you." Instantly he fired, the bullet entering below the heart.

Too Frightened to Talk.

Simpson was guarded by Deputy Sheriff Henry Sellers in a cast iron building, there being no jail. It was feared that an attempt at lynching would be made. At 11 o'clock an armed body of citizens appeared at the improvised jail and demanded Simpson. The prisoner was turned over without resistance by the deputy sheriff. Simpson was taken to a telephone pole and a rope adjusted about his neck. He was asked if he had anything to say, but seemed too frightened to make a reply or resist and was at once hoisted into the air.

A passer-by this morning saw the body about 8 o'clock and raised an alarm. The body was cut down and an inquest was held, the verdict being that Simpson, "came to his death by strangulation by parties unknown."

The Sheriff and Prosecuting Attorney are expected at Skidoo today.

Companion Flees.

At the time of the murder Gordon McEain, who interfered with the officers who captured Simpson by shielding Simpson with his own body, was arrested for interfering with an officer and locked up in a poolroom. At 11 o'clock last night the door was thrown open and a voice from the darkness shouted:

"McEain, they've got Simpson."

McEain dashed out into the night without waiting to ask questions and has not been seen since.

Simpson was being held until Saturday, when the Inyo county prosecuting attorney was to have conducted a preliminary examination. Simpson had summoned a criminal lawyer of Rhyolite to defend him and had claimed that the killing was done in self-defense.

Sailors Earn Praise of Every Citizen by Their Good Behavior Ashore

LOS ANGELES, April 23.—The different beach cities are planning interesting programs for tomorrow, Beach Day. All of the cities where the ships are at anchor will provide entertainment day and night for the officers and men. A grand ball for the officers of the second division is to be given tonight at the Virginia Hotel at Long Beach.

Lieutenant Evans, son of Admiral Evans, left today for Palo Robles to rejoin his father. He stated before departure that his father's condition was encouraging according to advice received since he left, but that nothing definite could be stated as to when he would rejoin the fleet.

Thomas Congratulates Men of His Command

Rear Admiral Thomas, after receiving a letter from Mayor Forward of San Diego, commending the sailors of the fleet for their behavior at that port, has added his own congratulations in the following communication, posted aboard all the vessels of the fleet:

"The following is an extract from a letter received by the senior officer present, published for the information of the fleet. The senior officer present commends the men for their conduct in deserving this expression of admiration.

San Diego People Much Pleased

"Dear Sir: I desire to express to you, through you, to the sailor boys of the fleet, our cordial appreciation of the uniform courtesy shown by them toward the people of the city of San Diego, during their stay among us. Our city was thrown open to the sailors of the fleet and I have yet to hear of any breach of good order.

"Loyalty and devotion of our people to the Navy is of the kind, that while it honors and respects the officers, includes also respect and consideration for the sailor boys, whom we recognize as a very important factor in the efficiency of the U. S. Navy. They are always welcome visitors to San Diego.

"With kindest personal regards, I am, very truly yours,

"JOHN FORWARD, Mayor.

Startling Reductions in Newest Apparel

$1.95

The Reason for This Extraordinary Sale

In buying and manufacturing our merchandise for this spring's business we took last season's results as a basis as far as quantities are concerned. You all know how the financial stringency affected the entire country and now it has stagnated local retail trade. Business this spring, therefore, did not come up to our expectations. Our stock is much too heavy—some of it will have to be sacrificed eventually—for we never carry over merchandise from one season to another. Instead of reducing our prices at the end of the season we do it now. We take our loss and take it quickly; costs and values are entirely disregarded. This is indeed an exceptional opportunity—just glance at these items—note the bona fide reductions—come and take advantage of price concessions such as you rarely expect to find at the end of the season, never, as in this instance, at its very beginning.

SOME OF THE CARTOONS FROM 1909 "BLUE AND GOLD," WHICH WAS OBJECTED TO BY FACULTY

The above cartoons, although not strenuously objected to by the U. of C. Faculty, were, however, bold enough to cause considerable comment. Another represents President Roosevelt and Benjamin Ide Wheeler in a boxing bout.

LIMPS TO NEIGHBOR'S HOUSE FOR ASSISTANCE

BERKELEY, April 23.—Twelve-year-old Earle Blaine undertook to show three playmates on his way home from the Columbus school yesterday how to play Indian. Opening a jagged knife which he borrowed from one of his older companions, Blaine began to swing it about his head, and to imitate some dance which he had pictured as the accompaniment of the scalping ceremonies of one of Fenimore Cooper's novels. Accidentally the blade swerved from its path and was forced into the lower part of his abdomen. His life now hangs in the balance in Roosevelt Hospital.

MURDER CHARGE AGAINST CURTIN NEARLY CLOSED

With the exception of the testimony of Dr. O. H. Hamlin, the prosecution in the trial of Robert E. Curtin, charged with murdering John A. Titus, has been completed. Yesterday afternoon the case was continued until next Monday morning by Superior Judge Ellsworth. On Monday Dr. Hamlin will take the stand, but at that time he will have returned from Colorado, where he is in attendance upon the session of the State Medical Society. The prosecution's testimony occupied all of yesterday.

BALANCED.—"Mr. Titus called on me last evening," said the dead girl. "I'm not actually with on his feet for such a big man?" "Yes," rejoined the young man in the case, "but he isn't any lighter on his feet than he is in his head."

CONVENTION POLITICS ARE BEING DISCUSSED

Friends of Senator Lodge Desire Him to Accept Chairmanship

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Convention politics are already topic of discussion at the capitol and some of the Republican leaders, realizing the possible danger of friction developing between the rival aspirants for the nomination in connection with the organization of the convention in Chicago are cautiously taking soundings to develop the attitude and probable course of action of various eligibles for the convention officers. It is now learned that a strong effort is being made to induce Senator Lodge of Massachusetts to accept the permanent chairmanship. His friends say they present in his personality the best compromise elements standing in a most favorable attitude toward each of the persons who have figured in the public print as possible candidates for the Republican nomination. The Senator himself does not care to discuss the matter openly and in fact it is probable that it has not progressed beyond a tentative stage.

BELL THEATER IS GIVING A GOOD BILL

Theaters of Oakland are beginning to appreciate the advantages offered by a theatrical performance that does not necessitate a costly dinner and a hurried scramble to get present before the curtain goes up. Such appreciation is evidenced by the unusually large crowds that gather nightly at the Bell Theater, which starts at 9:30 o'clock. Oaklanders have learned that they can linger over the evening meal, smoke an after-dinner cigar and then be on hand in time to get a good seat and witness an entire performance, and the Bell's shows are always enjoyable. The second performance at the Bell are appealing particularly to the leisure class, to which they seek novelty and amusement and who do not believe the day starts until the sun sets.

BROOKLYN TOMMY SULLIVAN IS MAKING WEIGHT NICELY

Red-Headed Scrapper Is Now Down to Within Hailing Distance of the Required Mark.

BY EDDIE SMITH.

If an honest confidence in one's self and good hard work will help to win boxing contests then Brooklyn Tommy Sullivan of St. Louis has the first qualification a plenty and is showing every day that he is anything but lazy when it comes to putting in hard licks to reach the state of perfection regarding condition that he expects to have when he steps into the ring with Abe Attell the last day of this month.

Yesterday afternoon when the day's work had been done and the little fellow had been sponged off he stepped on to the scales in the presence of Luke March and it was found that he tipped the beam at exactly 125 1/2 pounds, which means that he has three pounds more to remove before 5 o'clock next Thursday afternoon. Joe Le Roy, who is acting as trainer for the red-topped fighter, is of the opinion that Sullivan will make the weight nicely and announced yesterday that he would not take Sullivan below 125 1/2 or 126 pounds until the last two days of the training. Sullivan, like all other fighters who have been fighting for a long time, has become so accustomed to the work of the fighter in the gymnasium that he has become stale to it and would rather do any amount of hard road work than the hour that he puts in in the gymnasium every afternoon. His work yesterday consisted of punching the bag, shadow boxing, throwing the medicine ball and boxing, just the same every-day grind of the average pugilist that becomes monotonous to those who look the fighters over much less the man who has to go through it every day.

WILL MAKE WEIGHT.

After his work of yesterday Sullivan supped on a small glass of beer for refreshment and this sent out the general impression that he would not have the trouble in making the weight that it was expected. Attell will be on the ground today and will immediately go to Miller's to prepare for the contest. The little champion has no trouble in making the weight and as he has been busy for the past three months with one fight after the other it is a case of keeping from going stale with him instead of getting into condition. Fact is, Attell is always in condition.

Young Ketchell has been just aching for a fight for the past three months and it was partly through his desire for trouble that his manager, Joe O'Connor, made the match with Jack (Twin) Sullivan, realizing, however, that Ketchell is a fighter who should at all times be kept busy and also that he might as well try his hand at the big ones of the game. O'Connor has his plans laid for busy campaigning. As soon as the Sullivan contest, which takes place on May 8 at Colma, is over the Montanan will be hustled off to Milwaukee, where he will be pitted against Billy Papke, perhaps at the end of May or the first of June. Then he has promised Sam Berger that he will fight before the haberdashers' club in June, which will mean that he will probably fight two men either in May or June.

KETCHELL IN MILWAUKEE.

The match at Milwaukee with Papke has not been entirely arranged, but O'Connor has received a very flattering offer that runs something after the following fashion: A guarantee of a $12,000 purse for the fighters, three round-trip tickets and hotel expenses paid for himself during his stay in the beer-drinkers' town. With such an offer O'Connor could hardly refuse to meet the Spring Valley miner. The people of Milwaukee are wild over Papke, and as Ketchell has had such a great boosting here the contest would attract attention all over the country. It was at first expected that Papke and Ketchell would meet in San Francisco in a twenty-round contest, but the Easterner has shown a desire for the ten-round game and it is now almost certain that the two will clash at Milwaukee.

GARDNER AND TWIN MIKE.

Tonight at Los Angeles Jimmy Gardner and Mike (Twin) Sullivan will meet for the third time in the prize ring. The difference in this contest being that both men have fought and won and lost many battles since last they met and this contest is slated to go twenty-five rounds, which is the longest route they have ever been asked to travel together. In the first battle between this pair Gardner won the decision, the next contest was a draw and the last went to Sullivan after they had fought twenty rounds at San Francisco. In the contest at Los Angeles tonight it is expected by the wise ones that Gardner will be able to offset this win by gaining the decision if by putting him out. Mike the Twin has not been showing of late good advantage and the boys who play the form of the fighters will lay their money on Gardner.

GANS IS TRAINING HARD.

Joe Gans did his first work in the gymnasium since coming to California yesterday at Shannon's Villa in San Rafael. The old champion donned the old leathers that have seen him through many stages of training and lugged around the gym, doing just as he pleased, the work being more of a loosening up than anything else. When the work was over Joe stepped onto the scales and it was found that he weighed 139 pounds, which means that he will have only six pounds to reduce. Gans is similar to Abe Attell in this respect, he never takes on much weight and never has much to take off to make the limit of the class of which he is the daddy.

OLYMPIC GAMES COMMITTEE WILL HOLD MARATHON RACE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—The first Marathon race ever held in this vicinity will take place on Saturday, May 9, the date of the Olympic try-outs at Stanford University, and will be part of the program of events scheduled for that day. The regular Olympic games program includes a twenty-five mile road race and it is figured that fifteen miles will serve as a try-out in view of the fact that the longer distance has never been tried here. It is the intention of the committee in charge of the try-outs to start this long race early in the afternoon near Belmont and continue over a course following the county road, finishing on the older path at Stanford University. Several of the long distance runners who have been competing in the cross-country runs during the past year, in-

RUBRIC CLEVERLY TAKES $1000 MENDOTA HANDICAP

H. E. Rowells' Trick Outgames Marster in Feature Event—Center Shot Defeats Fireball in Closing Race.

H. E. Rowells' Rubric was a good horse yesterday and scored a clever victory over the select field which battled for honors in the Mendota Handicap, the racing feature at Williams' Park. The son of Mirthful was backed into favor at 6 to 1 and was the first choice of the day to make good for the talent. Miller had the leg up and sending his mount to the front early put up a hustling ride all the way, and on the end had enough left to stall out the belated rush of Marster. The latter met with interference right after the gateway and ran a good game race. Cabin managed to drop into third place, but can do much better.

Notwithstanding disagreeable weather a large attendance was on hand and the bookies divided the card with the bettors. My Pal found the track to his liking, and under an urging ride outgamed his field in the stretch and won cleverly. Tawassentia showed her usual high turn of speed, was inclined to quit, then under punishment came on again and saved the place from the fast coming Joe H. Sheehan. The latter did not get clear sailing until the stretch.

Trafic was away on his toes in the two-year-old dash, second on the card, and made his field look cheap, winning all the way in a common career. Joe H. the well heavily-played choice, did his best and lasted long enough to wrest the place from the fast coming Joe H. Sheehan. The latter did not get clear sailing until the stretch.

Favorite number three met defeat when Nadzu suddenly came to life and romped home in the distance affair, third on the list. Miss O'Rourke was elected favorite out of a crowd of favorites to race with the winner and dropped into third position. Joe Coyne was second. The winner closed at 7 to 1, and showed marked improvement over his last effort.

Mandarin, the like-warm choice in the fifth, had all the running and won by his field from wire to wire, scoring by three lengths at the wire. Charley Paine did the way in a common career. Joe H. disposed of Miss M. Bowditch for second honors.

Centre Shot ran right back to his last race, wore down the pacemakers in the stretch, and won the closing sprint with something like a common career. Cabin under the grueling pace, but held the place safe from May Amelia.

Joe H. Ritt put up a well-judged ride on Pal, which won the race.

Rubric, Mandarin and Center Shot were the winners I distributed yesterday.

Nadzu upset the odds for the many that backed Joe Coyne.

Blue Eyes could not outrun a fat man yesterday.

The boy on Parting Jennie pulled up his mount after going a mile and a quarter in the two-mile affair.

Del Fountain had a good bet on Tawassentia.

THE TRIBUNE gave the last three winners, Rubric, Mandarin and Center Shot.

Bookmaker Harry Froelich dropped $1000 to the wise set yesterday.

Thirty-one bookies lined up yesterday.

Court Emeryville Lodge 218, Foresters of America entertained their friends with a delightful dance on Tuesday night at Professor Holla's hall. The feature of the evening was the singing of James Healey and others.

Emigration Notice.—Sammy Friedlander has taken the East bound train for New York.

Fireball and Center Shot had a tug-of-war from the head of the stretch to the firing line. The latter walked away from the former, and Joe H. Harris let out a couple of wraps a yard from the wire.

Pal, who took the day's opener, fooled the dope students, as they thought the track was not of his liking.

The Oakland bunch went wrong on John H. Sheehan.

Creston Boy was the only horse that side-stepped the first race.

Belle of Iroquois came in for a strong play at post time.

The public out-generated the bookies yesterday.

"Kansas" Price recovered his previous losses when Traffic unexpectedly captured the youngsters' race.

Owner Oswald Bianchi and his friends broke even to the Tawassentia race.

The Butte stakes closed yesterday.

There will be a good week's racing at Colorado Springs after the Denver meet.

Mose Goldblatt has arrived at Lexington with Keep Moving, Alsatian and Mortiboy.

Dealer (to distinguished foreigner who is buying a horse) "Well, how do you like 'im?" D. F. "I like him all right." Dealer—"Well, I'm sure 'e ain't a sticky 'orse." D. F. "Sticky? No. He is not enough sticky. When he leaps I do not adhere."—Punch.

Superintendent Billy Myers will look after the Fort Erie track.

Owner J. P. Mayberry will race Robin Hood and others at Louisville.

J. Dillon, who for the past two seasons has ridden with much success in Austria, has decided to remain in England this year.

According to the Johannesburg Sunday Times there are about 500 race horses (including ponies) in training on the Rand, which means a keep and training bill for owners collectively of at least $50,000 per annum, added to which at the lowest estimate another $50,000 must be put down for entries, forfeits and expenses.

Ott, Brannon, Ficken, Skirvin, Rosen, Liebert, J. Baker, McGee, Butler and T. Koerner. Steeplechase riders: Yourell, Pierce, Archibald, Dayton, Hoffman, Sobell, Chandler, McClain and Walton.

Bold will win a race soon. Watch her.

Antioch had no chance with the ride she received.

Talarand, with Jockey Keogh in the saddle, was well thought of in the first race. The El Rio Rey gelding, after getting off well, stopped to a walk.

Antioch, from the wilds of Lemonville, was the last thing that melted away in the two-year-old race.

Bookmaker Joe Harlan cut in yesterday after a lay off of several weeks.

The books did not lay up anything yesterday.

The sharpshooters cleaned up on Oatline a place.

Nadzu came to life suddenly in the two-mile race. Somebody got the coin.

Naval Oarsmen Show Fine Form

ANNAPOLES, April 23.—By long than a half-length of their shells yesterday the Naval Academy crew lost to Harvard's eight-oared crew one of the most interesting and spectacular races ever rowed over the two-mile course on the Severn river. The time was: Harvard, 10 minutes and 30 seconds; Navy, 10 minutes, 22 seconds. The record for the same course over which the race was rowed is about one minute faster than this. On account of the tide and wind, Harvard preferred to row up the Severn instead of against the white caps. This the Navy agreed to.

King Edward's Tribute to Campbell-Bannerman

KING EDWARD.

LONDON, April 23.—"He was the faithful servant of his country; I am truly sorry he has gone," is the expression King Edward used on hearing at Copenhagen of the death of Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, and it well expressed the deep feeling of regret, as for a personal loss, underlying the tributes given by public men and newspapers of all shades of opinion.

That all are ready to admit that Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman was neither a statesman of genius or even a great administrator is not allowed to detract from the volume, the warmth or the sincerity of those tributes to his great force of character, his undeviating honesty of purpose and geniality of disposition which enabled him to win all hearts and his tact in dealing with men which brought him to the highest position of state.

Boat Capsizes as He and
His Bride Are Out
Rowing.

VIENNA, April 23.—Count Zechenyi and the Countess, formerly Gladys Vanderbilt, had a disagreeable adventure on Easter Sunday, which fortunately had no serious results. They were boating on the river Laboreza when their boat capsized and the couple were thrown into the water and were forced to swim ashore. A friend residing near the scene of the accident supplied them with dry clothing. Neither suffered any ill effects.

Bargain Basement

We have a room in our basement that is a receptacle for all damaged furniture. If an article is scratched or broken while a sample on one of the 7 main floors it is sent to the As-is room in the basement; if a piece of furniture is broken in transit from the East it is immediately sent to this room in the basement—it is not second-hand furniture, by no means—every piece is absolutely new, but, not coming up to the Breuner standard, it can not be placed on our main floors.

Here is an example illustrating the money saving possibilities of our "as-is" room—many other articles at an equal saving.

Solid Oak Dresser $7.85

The dresser shown in illustration to the left is not pine or ash, but solid golden oak. The beveled plate mirror measures 15x23 inches and is supported by graceful swan neck stanchions. Every drawer is dove-tailed and fitted with lock and key. This dresser has shaped top, paneled sides and shaped front legs and is without doubt the best value offered in the bay district. Considered a good value at $12.50. As-is price—$7.85

There will be thousands of visitors here to see the bargains! Where are they going to sleep? The hotels and rooming houses will not be large enough to accommodate them. Have you an extra room that can be fitted up and rented to a visitor? We have everything that is needed: beds, dressers, comforters, blankets, handy couches, folding cots, pillows, etc. Lowest prices prevail. Pay-a little down and a little each week or month.

To be Given Away

A beautiful home in the Piedmont hills. A $4000, 5-room bungalow, like illustration to the right is being built on a lot 48x125 in Randolph avenue, Fourth Avenue Terrace, Oakland—it will be presented absolutely free to one of our customers in the near future. A certificate with every $50 purchase. Ten certificates entitles you to a coupon. Full information and map of locality at our store.
